

GUIDING PRINCIPLES

Every aspect of the project is to celebrate and take advantage of Chicago's diverse seasons.

Create accessible opportunities for unique experiences.

The facility is to re-establish the connection between nature and the built environment. Community members will develop an appreciation for the various activities and the climate which facilitates them.

Typical community activities will mingle with exciting new programs to allow for entertainment diversification.

No recreational activity is too bizarre!